All of our products are painted with a powder coat finish. Powder coating is an electrostatically charged polyurethane resin that is applied to a surface and bonded at high temperatures.

Surfaces are chemically treated, rinsed, and cured to receive our Zinc primer coat. The Zinc primer coat aids in the prevention of rust and other aging elements. The final color coat is applied and baked in a 450 degree oven. This 3 step process ensures a product prepped with the most up to date technologies in the prevention of rust and oxidation. Along with this we recommend you thoroughly clean and wax your door twice a year to prolong its life.
